

McCarthy Family Index by Lizz Wilson (nee Pehotsky)

Welcome to the Index. On the following pages is my attempt to organize a vast list of names representing my family's life in the Cleveland area (mostly arranged by my place in the mix). Some notes are included regarding where I found the names, and if any are missing it is not for lack of effort. The majority of the information on the following pages was researched from the Internet and "free" online documents exclusively. Some of the information was gathered from family & friends. I included extended family connections within the document, simply because the information was available. If you are interested in the databases I used, I have them listed at <http://www.McCarthyConnection.com>.

St. Malachi Parish, Calvary Cemetery and McGorray Bros. Funeral Home were noted so often in the obituaries that I researched I felt it prudent to make note of it when I found those names. Those who used the following services are therefore marked accordingly:

† = *Services held at St. Malachi's Parish, 2459 Washington Avenue

St Malachi Parish was founded as an outgrowth of St Patrick's church (Bridge) in November 1865 to serve the Irish immigrants of the "Old Angle." In the late 1920's St. Malachi had only 60 families. On December 23, 1943, two days before the 75th anniversary of the first Mass, the just-renovated church was gutted by fire. The people of Saint Malachi and Father George Martin were determined to rebuild. Because of the war, ground could not be broken for a new church until July 1945; the cornerstone was laid in November. The current church was dedicated by Bishop Hoban on June 29, 1947. Called "The Memorial Church," the windows are dedicated in memory of the people of Saint Malachi and the priests and Sisters who served here. The Baptistry and most of the statues were rescued from the old church and are used in the new church. The current church was most recently renovated in 1976.

* = *McGorray Brothers Funeral Home handled arrangements.

McGorray Bros. Funeral Home was founded by Mark McGorray in 1873. It is one of only a few family businesses which are in their third century. Mark McGorray began his business at 3040 Lorain Ave. and it was primarily a livery stable. In those days it was not unusual for funeral directors to be linked to either a livery business or a furniture store. Mark's two son's James W. and Joseph both joined the business when they came of age. After Mark McGorray's death in 1891, the two became the "Brothers" in the name McGorray Bros. In about 1919 McGorray's bought the first motorized hearse in the Cleveland area. Early on, limousines, which were used by funeral homes, were 2nd owner Packards, Pierce-Arrows, and Cadillacs, which had belonged to wealthy families in the area. In these early days McGorray Bros. handled approximately 400 - 500 funerals per year. In 1892 James McGorray II was born. When he was of age, he joined in his family's chosen profession. James W. McGorray III was born in 1923 and soon became the fourth generation of family funeral directors. In 1934 McGorray's bought a mansion on Detroit Ave. in Lakewood, Ohio which became a branch office. The mansion was the home of the William Busse family. He was a restaurateur, having an establishment in the arcade downtown. In 1960 the building at 3040 Lorain Rd. was sold to St. Ignatius School and the business was consolidated in one location. The only remaining piece of memorabilia from the Lorain Ave. location is today used as the corporate logo for McGorray Bros. Funeral Directors. It is the transom window from above the office door at 30th and Lorain.
